New Editor for the International Review for Sociology of Sport (IRSS)

ISSA is pleased to announce that Professor John Sugden (University of Brighton, U.K.) has accepted the position of Editor of IRSS beginning June 1, 2006. Professor Sugden is an internationally respected scholar with a strong publication record (see brief biography below). He is currently liaising with our current editor, Peter Donnelly, and Sage Publishers to ensure a smooth transition. Professor Sugden will begin accepting manuscripts on June 1, 2006. Until then all manuscripts should continue to go to Peter Donnelly. Updated submission details will be included in the next issue of IRSS as well as on the ISSA web site. While a more formal thank you will take place in future ISSA wishes to take this opportunity to thank Peter Donnelly for assuming the role of interim editor during a difficult time for the journal.

Brief Biography: Professor John Sugden

BA (Hons) Politics and Sociology (University of Essex); PGCE Physical Education (University of Liverpool); MA Sport and Leisure Studies (University of Connecticut). PhD Sociology of Sport (University of Connecticut). John is Deputy Head of the Chelsea School, and is a postgraduate research supervisor to a number of doctoral candidates. He also provides undergraduate dissertation guidance and teaches modules in the sociology of sport. Selected Recent Publications: Badfellas. FIFA Family at War (with Tomlinson, A.), Edinburgh / London, Mainstream Press, 2003. Scum Airways: Inside Football's Underground Economy, Edinburgh / London, Mainstream Press, 2003. Power Games: Theory and Method for a Critical Sociology of Sport (ed. with Tomlinson, A.), London, Routledge, 2002.

New ICCSPE Web Site Password:

One of the benefits of ISSA membership is full access to the ICSSPE www site which provides a wide range of information and resources. From 2 May 2006 the new password for the ICSSPE website including the Bulletin is: bcdm06.
