MESSAGE FROM THE ISSA PRESIDENT

On behalf of the ISSA Executive Board, I would like to wish all of our members a very happy new year. These are exciting times for the sociology of sport and for our association. By the end of 2011, ISSA had established itself as a truly international association, with members from more than 30 countries including postgraduate students, faculty staff, and sociologists working outside academia. ISSA provides a network linking people who have a shared enthusiasm for supporting the association's mission to generate knowledge about sports in society, engage with and inform people and sport policies, and contribute to human development in and through sport.

In 2012, ISSA welcomes a new Executive Board (listed below) bringing together the expertise of long-serving members from around the globe. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all former ISSA Board members whose hard work and dedication has provided the foundations of the association that we enjoy today. During this year, we will also welcome a new Editor to the association's journal, the International Review for the Sociology of Sport, and publication will increase from 4 to 6 issues per year. We are very pleased to announce that subscription to IRSS continues to be one of the many benefits of ISSA membership and that there will be no increase in membership rates this year.

Over the coming months, we will make further announcements of new initiatives and developments. We encourage you to look at the website (issa.otago.ac.nz), to share your own news with other members via the eBulletin, and to make suggestions to the Executive Board for ways in which we might improve your association.

The 2012 ISSA World Congress will take place in Glasgow, UK, from July 16-18th 2012. I very much look forward to seeing many of you there.

Wishing you all a very happy, healthy and productive 2012.

With best wishes,
Elizabeth Pike
ISSA President

OTHER FORTHCOMING CONFERENCES

Sport, Race and Ethnicity 2012 Conference

You are invited to attend the 4th International Conference on Sport, Race and Ethnicity, which will be held at the Belfast Campus of the University of Ulster, Belfast, Northern Ireland, June 27 – 30, 2012. The conference is hosted by the Sport and Exercise Sciences Research Institute at the University of Ulster.

The site for the forthcoming Sport, Race and Ethnicity Conference is one of the most intriguing destinations for the study of sport and identity anywhere in the world. For most of the latter part of the twentieth century Belfast, the capital city of Northern Ireland, was an international byword for ethnic division, conflict and violence. Amid this turmoil, lasting almost three decades, sport continued to exist, albeit in abnormal circumstances.

The University of Ulster is delighted to be hosting this prestigious meeting of scholars focusing on the role of sport as a vehicle for examining issues of race, ethnicity and identity. We do hope that the opportunity to visit Belfast, and possibly travel further afield, combined with a thought provoking and intellectually stimulating series of academic papers, will encourage delegates from around the world to attend what promises to be an excellent conference.

Registration (priced at GBP£215 until 29 February 2012; GBP£260 thereafter) is now available at: www.science.ulster.ac.uk/sre2012/registration.php.

Presenters wishing to submit individual abstracts or propose a dedicated panel session should submit their proposals to Dr. Daryl Adair, Associate Professor, School of Leisure, Sport and Tourism, University of Technology Sydney, Australia, by email to Daryl.Adair@uts.edu.au.

Delegates should refer to the conference website for further details: www.science.ulster.ac.uk/sre2012/.

“Sport & physical activity in the process of Latin American integration”

October 24-26, 2012

University of Concepción, Chile

Dear friends,

The Latin American Association of Socio-Cultural Studies of Sport (ALESDE), with support from the Department of Physical Education, Faculty of Education, University Olympic Sports Study Group, and the University of Concepción, is pleased to invite you to ALESDE’s Third Congress to be held October 24-26, 2012 at the University of Concepción, Chile.

The success of previous ALESDE meetings and conferences in Curitiba, Brazil in 2008 and in Maracay, Venezuela in 2010 inspires us to continue organising these events for the advancement of knowledge; exchange of experiences among researchers, practitioners, teachers and students; and to develop solutions for social and sport-related problems in Latin America.

The Scientific Committee of ALESDE is developing the Conference program which will include topics related to the current status of sport as a social phenomenon in modern society, and especially its role in Latin America.

We invite you to submit papers and/or abstracts based on your scientific research. To do so, go directly to our submission registration site: www.udec.cl/alesde Information about hotel accommodations and about the city of Concepción and the surrounding region will be available soon at this site.

I thank you in advance, and on behalf of the University of Concepción and the city of Concepción, we look forward to hosting you at this important event.
